MISS MARGARET CLARK IN "MICE AND MEN."

Adorable Marguerite Clark captured "movie" lovers yesterday afternoon and last night at the Princess Theater when she made her appearance in the Famous Players production of "Mice and Men." Miss Clark in the beginning has the role of Peggy, a child, one of the many in an orphan asylum. From this institution she is taken into the home of a man who has been impressed by a sentence he has read in a book that if a man would have a wife in his liking, he personally should supervise her upbringing. The plan works out splendidly until Peggy is woman grown. Mark Embury, the guardian, has set the stage for a proposal, in a moonlight arbor, with a lake in the background, he hesitates—and is lost. The real lover appears, extends his arms and Embury gets not another chance. Miss Clark has had no screen medium in which as child and young woman she appears to better advantage. She portrays the simplicity of childhood, its innocence and the conquest, the ingenious conquest, of building womanhood. The cast has been skillfully chosen. Marshall Neilan is a dashing army lieutenant, Lovell by name, who is momentarily fascinated by Mrs. Goodlake, the darling of a near old man. The picture is finely staged. The exteriors were taken in Savannah. The cast is augmented by one hundred and fifty members of the Chatham Artillery and other Savannahians, including Miss Della Moore and Neyle Colquitt. The Princess was crowded to its capacity all day yesterday and last night. "Mice and Men" will be shown at Leslie's Arcade, Friday, March 10.

Death of Mr. J. P. Thomas.

Mr. James Pinkney Thomas died Monday evening at 7 o'clock at his home in Vincent street. Mr. Thomas was 53 years of age and is survived by his widow, three sons and one daughter. The remains were carried to Nazareth in Saluda county, and interred Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Kieckley conducted the funeral ceremonies.

Miss Kate Porter, an experienced milliner is now with the millinery department of Caldwell and Haltiwanger where she will be pleased to see her friends, whom she will take pleasure in serving.

PROSPERITY WILL CONSERVE HEALTH OF ITS CITIZENS

Interesting and Instructive Program Arranged for the Children—Honoring and Complementing a Bride to Be—Personals.

Prosperity, March 9.—On Thursday afternoon the hospitable home of Miss Ellen Werts was a scene of great beauty and charm, in compliment to Miss Mary Lizzie Wise, the talented bride-elect. Miss Werts on this occasion gave a kitchen shower. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. J. B. Bedenbaugh, sister of the hostess, and shown in to the drawing room, which was a veritable bower of beauty. The color scheme here being white, which was a very effective setting for the girlish bride-to-be. Here an interesting contest was held, "Love in a Kitchen."

After much merriment and amusement, the hostess invited the guests into the dining room. Here it seemed, we had drifted to fairy land, with all its beauties and beauty. Every where was seen profusion of jonquills and Southern snail. The soft glow of burning tapers from out the pyramids of jonquills cast a glow of loveliness which indescribably added still more beauty to the scene, came two dainty maidens Louise and Mary Bedenbaugh dressed as yellow fairies with a most tempting salad course.

Amidst this scene of beauty one discovered a table laden with numerous and useful articles for the kitchen, in the little home in Baysburg.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hawkins have been the guests this week of Mrs. A. H. Kohn, of Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wise are home from the Western mule market.

Miss Annie Mae Bedenbaugh of Kibler's Bridge, is visiting Miss Ellen Werts.

Miss Nell Kohn of Columbia, arrives today to visit Miss Mary Lizzie Wise.

Mrs. Adams has returned to Greenville after a visit to her mother, Mrs. Godfrey Harmon.

Mrs. Ellie Fellers went to the Columbia hospital Tuesday where she underwent an operation on Wednesday. She was accompanied by her brother, Dr. G. Y. Hunter.

Mr. H. J. Hawl has gone to St. George, to visit relatives.

Mrs. James Goggans, of Columbia, is spending a few days with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Wyche.
